Michael Cowen is the Founding Partner of Cowen | Mask | Blanchard. As a graduate of Texas A&M University in 1991, he is a proud Aggie. After obtaining his degree, Michael attended law school at the University of Texas at Austin School of Law where he graduated in 1995 with high honors and then earned the top score on the Texas Bar Exam. To this day, Michael is still asked about this achievement so early in his career.

As a Board Certified attorney in personal injury trial law since 2001, Michael has spent his legal career representing people when they have been injured and are in need of help the most. His firm focuses on serious injury cases ranging from trucking, to commercial motor vehicle, and product liability. He has spoken at numerous CLE courses for organizations like AAJ, AIEG, Hidalgo County Bar Association, and TTLA where he is a proud fellowship member.

Michael is devoted to passing on his years of experience and lessons learned along the way to his peers in the legal community, which is why in addition to his speaking engagements his firm also creates the monthly publication “Off The Record” exclusively for attorneys, and hosts complimentary CLE seminars. His trucking and commercial motor vehicle seminars cover topics relating to trial skills, 3D exhibits, focus groups, 8 figure cases, and high end demonstratives. Early this year he created the book “Building Towers of Evidence Captured by Cell Phones,” which details how to use cell phone data to prove driver fatigue and offers step by step instructions on how to utilize cell phone forensics in a trucking case.
