Eric Penn is a trial lawyer based out of Jacksonville, Texas. Eric's practice has evolved to focus on representing people who have been seriously injured from truck crashes nationwide. Eric is a Board-Certified Advocate in Truck Accident Law by the National Board of Trial Advocacy (NBTA) and is a frequent speaker on Trucking Litigation and Trial Advocacy throughout the country. Eric is on staff with the Trial Lawyer's College (TLC), a member of the American Board of Trial Attorneys (ABOTA), the Attorney Information Exchange Group (AIEG) where he serves on the Board of Directors and as chair of the AIEG Trucking Group, the Academy of Trucking Accident Attorneys (ATAA) where he serves on the Board of Governors, the AAJ Trucking litigation section and Texas Trial Lawyers Association (TTLA). When Eric is not practicing law, his time is usually spent on one of his other two passions in life: being a dad and sailing.
